

Teen Job and Career Online Resources

The Business of Babysitting Guide <http://urbanext.illinois.edu/babysitting/>

From their Web site: This Web site is specifically designed to be used by young people, ages 14-19 who are interested in learning more about the business of babysitting. This is not developed for youth under the age of 14 or for child care professionals who generally need a more concentrated, in-depth learning experience.

Bureau of Labor Statistics <http://www.bls.gov/k12/> Exploring Career Information

Feed the Pig <http://www.feedthepig.org/> From their Web site: I'm "spokespig" Benjamin Bankes, here to remind you to feed your piggy bank. This Web site is here to help you do just that. Here, you'll find fun tools, a quiz, tons of tips and other resources. They will all help you think through your spending and saving habits, identify ways you can start saving and commit to making changes that will reduce your debt and grow your savings.

Teens for Hire <http://www.teens4hire.org/> From their Web site: If you are a teen 14 to 19 looking for a full-time, part-time, summer, seasonal, volunteer or vocational job, join and create your membership profile. Membership is free of charge and allows you to search jobs, apply online, be considered for openings, and get the latest news, info and tips on how to land a job, earn money, and/or get work experience.

Internet Public Library Teen Guide to Money & Work

<http://www.ipl.org/div/teen/browse/mw0000/>

From their Web site: Are you looking for your first job? Wondering about how you should spend and save your hard-earned cash? Well, this section is all about earning, saving, and spending money.

Quintessential Careers http://www.quintcareers.com/finding_summer_jobs.html

A leader in career and job-search advice with more than 3,500 pages of free college, career, and job-search content to empower success in life.

Sense and Dollars <http://senseanddollars.thinkport.org/>

Think you know about money—let's find out! A Web site designed for kids and teens

Teens for Hire <http://www.teens4hire.org/> From their Web site: If you are a teen 14 to 19 looking for a full-time, part-time, summer, seasonal, volunteer or vocational job, join and create your membership profile. Membership is free of charge and allows you to search jobs, apply online, be considered for openings, and get the latest news, info and tips on how to land a job, earn money, and/or get work experience.

Teen Job Section <http://www.teenjobsection.com/> From their Web site: Finding a job as a teen can often be a task, and finding a teen job you enjoy can be even harder. No matter what kind of work you're looking for Teen Job Section has it...summer jobs, seasonal jobs, student jobs, non-profit jobs, and more. We have jobs for every one in all fifty states in retail jobs, government jobs, entertainment jobs, bank jobs, office jobs, military jobs, restaurant jobs, home jobs, student jobs, teen jobs, automotive jobs, hourly jobs and many others.

Test Your Money $marts

<http://www.sec.gov/investor/tools/quiz.htm#a8>

U.S. Department of Labor Occupational Safety & Health Administration

<http://www.osha.gov/SLTC/teenworkers/teenworkers.html>

From their Web site: Work experience can be a great benefit to you and your employer! Regardless of where you work - restaurant, grocery store, office, or on a farm, OSHA's mission is to prevent injuries and protect the health of America's teen workers by promoting positive and safe work experiences.

Youth@Work <http://www.youth.eeoc.gov/> From their Web site: Welcome to Youth @ Work, the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) website for youth in the workforce. The EEOC's goal is to eliminate illegal discrimination from the workplace for all workers. This Web site is designed to teach you about some of your rights and responsibilities as an employee.